POPE JOHN IS ON THRESHOLD OF DEATH

257 Arrested In Demonstrations

Tallahassee Police Use Tear Gas To Stall Negroes' March

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Authorities used tear gas to stall one march by Negroes and arrested 257 during Thursday, the 10th straight day of anti-segregation demonstrations in Florida's capital city.

Most of those arrested are students at Florida A&M (Negro) University, and 220 of them were ordered before State Judge Ben Willis today to answer contempt of court charges.

The other 37 are to appear in City Court Monday to face charges of unlawful assembly.

There was no violence during the marches, aimed at segregated movie theaters. A series of sit-in demonstrations some time ago resulted in the quiet desegregation of lunch counters in the business district.

Plans remained unchanged for another massive protest of segregation at two white theaters tonight.

The mass arrests in Tallahassee provided the major development on the racial front Thursday, but anti-segregation activity was popping in many points across the nation.

Integrationists made plans to increase the tempo of demonstrations against segregation in Jackson, Miss.

A Negro spokesman said a massive, Birmingham-type campaign will be launched in Los Angeles with total elimination of discrimination as its goal.

Cities experiencing racial demonstrations Thursday included Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Baton Rouge, La., Chattanooga, Tenn., and Cambridge, Md.

In Tallahassee, the 220 jailed by county officers were part of a first protest before theater. An hour later, city police broke up a second march of approximately 200 Negroes and arrested 37 on charges of unlawful assembly.

The police used two tear gas bombs and a determined line to turn back the second group. The 37 arrestees refused to leave a churchyard where they had taken refuge from the tear gas.

Circuit Judge Willis Thursday ordered that the protests be halted until after a hearing Monday following a complaint by Les Pendleton, a theater manager. Pendleton charged the demonstrations were hurting his business.

Pontiff Takes Sudden Turn For Worse

Extreme Unction Is Given Catholic Leader, Report Says

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A sudden turn for the worse today brought Pope John XXIII to the threshold of death.

The Vatican press office announced he was given extreme unction and the communion viaticum, the sacraments administered to persons in danger of dying.

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, who had appeared to be making a strong comeback from a near-fatal crisis Tuesday, was reported failing rapidly.

It was believed he had suffered a new outbreak of internal bleeding, provoked by a stomach growth that may be a benign tumor, a cancer, or an overgrowth of normal tissue.

To all members of the Vatican staff, the word went out: "Pray Rush To The Vatican"

Cardinals rushed to the Vatican. Only a few were admitted to the apartment where the Pope lay on a cast iron bed.

Among those admitted were Archbishop Angelo Dell'Acqua, substitute secretary of state; Gustavo Cardinal Cento of the Vatican Curia; and Raimondo Manzini, director of L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper.

There was no word of the doctors there. Presumably the Pope's Roman doctor, Piero Mazzoni, was in the room. He had been sleeping in the palace for more than a week.

It was a dramatic turn in the illness of the pontiff.

This morning the Vatican had said the Pope was continuing to rally. The press office said he spend a tranquil night.

Prelates were looking ahead to the Pope resuming activity. Crisis Doctors Had Feared Suddenly came the crisis that his doctors had feared—a crisis at a time when he was still weak from the last one.

Doctors reported the hemorrhaging had been halted Wednesday. The Pope's personal doctor, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, had returned to his home in Bologna.

Gasbarrini said he and his colleagues were confident the Pope would rally.

But he provided a possible clue of the new collapse.

He told newsmen that Pope John should stay in bed, but had refused to do so.

Manzini, emerging from the sickroom, told newsmen the Pope had "suffered a complete reverse."

An unexpected worsening, against all expectations, has occurred in the general condition of the Pope," he said.

Dr. Gasbarrini started back immediately from Bologna.

Began Before Dawn

Although the press office had said the Pope had a quiet night, Manzini indicated the new crisis had its beginning before dawn.

"There was a state of uncertainty starting about midnight," Manzini said, and Dr. Mazzoni was immediately summoned to the papal apartment.

Apparently the setback did not become critical immediately.

Manzini said Dr. Mazzoni remained in the apartment and that the Pope, by 6:30 a.m., was able to hear Mass celebrated in the study next to the bedroom. Manzini said the Pope also received communion.

At 9 a.m., with the Pope still feeling pain, his Rome surgeon, Pietro Valdoni, was summoned.

Manzini said Valdoni "ascertained an increased gravity in the Pope's condition."

Pope Was Conscious

The newspaper director said the Pope was informed and asked to receive extreme unction, a sac-

Strike Called In Argentina

To Protest Crisis In Unemployment

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (A) — After riotous demonstrations Peronist labor unions launched a 24-hour general strike today to press for government action to ease unemployment.

The strike, aimed at paralyzing the troubled country, was called by the 2.5-million-member General Confederation of Labor to climax a week of protest. The CGT is dominated by followers of former Dictator Juan D. Peron, now in exile in Spain.

All unions except the white collar workers have agreed to support the strike, which threatened to slow public transportation to a crawl.

Unions promised to keep skeleton crews manning utilities, hospitals, long distance telephones, airport control towers and other essential installations.

The strike began at midnight after a day of violence in which federal police used tear gas and high pressure water on about 12,000 marching workers. Half a dozen demonstrators were reported slightly injured.

Board To Study Thresher Photos

Pictures Reveal Lost Submarine

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — Searchers have photographed wreckage lying on the ocean floor some 8,400 feet below the surface and have identified it as the hull, diving plane and sail area of the nuclear submarine Thresher.

Thresher sank April 10 during a deep sea test dive with 129 men aboard.

The photographs, taken by the research vessel Conrad, were en route today to Boston. They will then be flown to the Navy Court of Inquiry at Portsmouth, N.H. The court is investigating the sea disaster, which occurred some 220 miles east of Boston.

The bathyscaph Trieste is standing by in Boston, the Navy said, and will proceed to the scene if the Court of Inquiry decides more photographs are needed.

Dr. J. Lamar Worzel, assistant director of the Lamont Geological Observatory whose researchers photographed the wreckage Thursday, said the pictures were definitely of the sunken submarine.

Vice Adm. Elton W. Grenfell, commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet Submarine Force in Norfolk, Va., said the photographs "appeared to be definitely correlated with the missing submarine." Experts have said that if the Thresher did sink to a depth of 8,400 feet, she could not possibly have survived. Water pressure at that level would be 3,730 pounds per square inch, compared with the sea-level pressure of 32 pounds.

The Trieste is constructed so that it can descend far deeper than 8,000 feet with men and cameras aboard and withstand the pressure.

The Conrad and other search vessels have obtained their photographs with underwater camera systems lowered by cable nearly a mile and a half below the water's surface.

Since April 10, Navy and civilian vessels have steadily circled the area trying to locate what became an underwater grave for 16 officers, 96 enlisted men and 17 civilian technicians.

The Thresher was commissioned at Portsmouth Shipyard in 1961. She was considered the most modern of the nuclear attack submarines.

She had left that port April 9 after a complete overhaul.

The next morning disaster struck.

BOY SUFFERS BURNS

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joseph Jones, 15, suffered second and third-degree burns over all of his body except his face Thursday night when a friend flipped a cigarette into a can apparently loaded with paint thinner. The can exploded into a shower of flames that engulfed the Jones boy. He was burned critically and taken to Lutheran Hospital.

THE BRU—President John F. Kennedy and his brother Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy smiled broadly as they stood shoulder to shoulder during a recent reception.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Health Questions, Answers

Q—Could the operation for asthma that you mentioned (removal of the carotid body) also help emphysema?

A—The operation referred to does not correct the underlying allergy in persons with asthma, but does increase respiratory efficiency by releasing trapped air. It would seem logical to try it on patients

Dr. Brandstadt who have emphysema, especially since the operation is relatively simple. I do not, however, know of any reports that this has been tried.

Q—My teen-age daughter bathes every night, uses deodorants, and never wears a blouse more than one day without washing it. But even after the blouses are washed, they still have a sweaty odor. This is embarrassing to both of us. What can we do?

A—This is a common complaint in teen-agers. The problem will become less acute as your daughter grows older. Meanwhile, if she doesn't shave her armpits she should, because deodorants are practically useless in the presence of axillary hair. Some deodorants are better than others, so she may have to try several to find one that helps her best, but none of them will work unless used every day without fail.

Frequent bathing is recommended, but the best results are obtained when a soap that contains hexachlorophene is used. It may help if you could get her to take a calmer view of life. Worry and anxiety can aggravate this, as well as so many other problems.

Q—I am a 72-year-old housewife. I am well except for excessive sweating day and night. My doctor cannot find any cause. Will I just have to learn to live with it?

A—Fever, exercise, and overheated surroundings are the usual causes of sweating. In the absence of any of these, excessive sweating is usually due to some emotional stimulus such as anger, fear, or excitement. In many persons, excessive sweating is limited to the hands, forehead, armpits, or feet.

Methanethine and propanethine have benefited some persons who have had excessive sweating, but the results are variable. Such unpleasant side effects as dryness of the mouth and blurred vision may make it necessary to stop the medicine.

In severe cases, an operation that severs the sympathetic nerve roots has given good results, but most people would rather sweat it out.

Q—What is emphysema? Is it caused by smoking?

A—Emphysema is a collection of pus between the lungs and the chest wall. It almost always starts as an acute condition with fever, associated with some disease of the lungs. Smoking is not a direct cause.

If treatment of the disease that started it is inadequate, chronic persistent emphysema may result. This is usually confined to a limited area.

Nature causes the area to be walled off to prevent spreading of the infection over the entire chest wall.

Some persons live 20 years or more after the acute episode. In these persons, the symptoms may be surprisingly mild. The treatment depends in part on the cause and the amount of involvement of the lung. In treating this condition, the infection must be controlled, after which an operation to drain or remove the empyema sac may be necessary.

The school year in the United States averages 180 days.

"IT PAYS TO BELONG"

Universal Sadness For Pope John

Of all the scholars, preceptors, theologians, philosophers and sainted men who have risen through the priesthood to leadership of the Roman Catholic Church, none could have claimed more esteem and love in so short a time as Pope John XXIII.

He was in his 77th year when elected in 1958. He knew he was being given the honor as a standby pope; that otherwise a younger man would have been chosen.

But he knew also, as did his church, that he was given the honor because his qualities made him deserving of it. He had a world-wide reputation for affability and kindness that coincided with his reputation for firmness in defending church policies and principles.

IT HAS BEEN a matter of speculation since his election in October 1958 that if the honor had come to him 20 years before it did, his ideas for re-examination—the motive for the Ecumenical Council—would have had time to take full effect.

Not in recent memory has any pope spoken to a more sympathetically disposed audience than Pope John had in 1961 when he set the theme for the Ecumenical Council—possible reunion of the “separated brethren,” union of Catholics among themselves, closer understanding with all people and renewed hope of peace.

On the mind and the convictions of such a man a world could be built.

IT WAS NO accident that Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli had distinguished himself in everything he had undertaken before his election as Pope John XXIII.

It was the result of a happy combination of wit, wisdom, tenacity, tenderness, devotion and awareness of the world he had lived in that earned him unique distinction as a man destined for leadership of his church.

More than that, he must have been destined for leadership of his generation.

When he spoke, his fellowmen listened. As he enters the shadows at the end of his useful life, the whole world grieves.

It's Going to Be Long Range

A report that as many as five Russian astronauts were lost before the Gagarin earth orbit in April 1961 is a reminder to Americans that the most successful part of their own space program so far has been the absence of secrecy.

Everything that has been done here has been reported in detail by all media of communications—the failures as well as the successes. It has been fortunate that no disasters have occurred so far. But more than luck is to be thanked for this.

Behind the vexing and discouraging postponements were meticulous checks and re-checks of equipment. Nothing was left to chance. Everything possible was done to give the astronauts complete assurance.

As time passed and more space flights were made, everybody became accustomed to the American technique of handling its space program in the open—no secrets, no coverups. But has the good effect been minimized by familiarity?

It is going to be a long race, this contest to be first in space. Everything about it must be done with a view to the long pull.

There is no hurry about any one part of the race. In a very real sense, the winner can be expected to be the contestant that makes fewer mistakes, not the contestant that had the head start.

American astronauts have a perfect score so far—six up and six back.

It is less important that another astronaut should go into orbit than it is that the next project—Gemini—be made as nearly perfect as was Project Mercury. It is not a publicity contest.

Automatic Pension Pie Windfall

Pensions of retired federal workers now are formally tied to the official consumer price index. This means their retirement pay automatically goes up when the cost-of-living goes up—a built-in protection against inflation.

The federal plan goes much farther than private plans have been able or willing to go. Many collective bargaining contracts provide automatic wage increases but no pension increases when living cost goes up.

The plan became law last October when it was a little-noticed part of the bill that lifted postal rates and provided higher federal pay.

The pension provision was buried so deeply in the bill that many federal employees still are unaware it is on the books. Even Douglas Dillon, secretary of the treasury, when asked about the purchasing power pensions, confessed he had not heard of the law before.

The plan works very simply. A retired worker's annuity is raised when the price index goes up at least 3 per cent. The Civil Service Commission will make the adjustment annually and will figure them to the nearest one-tenth of 1 per cent.

The law says nothing about adjusting pensions downward if living costs decline, but that is too realistic for politicians who expect living costs rising at an average rate of at least 1.5 per cent a year.

It's the kind of program that gives shudders to people who think government takes inflation too lightly.

Good Job Each Year

The good turnout for Salem's Memorial Day parade and services Thursday was a credit to the dedicated, hard-working Memorial Day Association whose members spend many hours in preparing for the annual event.

This year's colorful parade was especially good and, in addition to including the local military contingents and service organization, featured the Buckeye Blues Brigade of the 19th Ohio Regiment, the Sons of Union Veterans-sponsored organization which is now known nationally as “Ohio's Own.” These units, comprising 115 trained and authentically uniformed members, includes the Salem Guards Artillery and Troop C (Cavalry) of Salem, Troop B of Berlin Center, Troop A of Leetonia and units from Alliance, East Liverpool and Wellsville.

A public salute goes to these men the local veterans organizations and all others who each year make it possible for an appropriate memorial observance to be carried out.

Facing the Music

Nothing is so good it cannot be made better.

Violinist Yehudi Menuhin, who has been playing the violin since he was 4, has been given a patent on a better chin rest for the thing.

His invention makes it unnecessary for a violinist to squirm as if fighting a shifty of ants at a picnic.

The suspense that builds up during a concert when listeners in the gallery organize betting pools on which selection will be disrupted when the violin squirts out of its precarious perch between a sweating chin and a padded shoulder will be ended when the new gadget becomes universal.

It is unthinkable that violinists will not take advantage of this improvement. Or is it. They have been playing the violin for centuries, yet not until now did one of them slow initiative about improving the chin rest.

Did violinists perhaps think to impress audiences as much with mastery of the art of holding their ridiculous instrument as the art of playing the thing?

There are still users of the telephone who risk permanent cricks in the neck by propping a receiver between their clavicles and their ears, despite a simple device that holds a receiver in place without need of contortion.

People can get terribly set in their ways. Any pianist with the imagination to get past Czerny exercises should be able to see the need for a sliding bench to play pieces that cause him to slide back and forth, heating up his posterior and risking a prat-fall.

Any lady harpist should see the advantage

After the Prom

Tonight is Prom Night at the high school when juniors and seniors will enjoy the climactic social event of the school year. The memorable event is to be followed by an after-prom party from midnight to 3 a.m., an event that is open to all students of both classes whether or not they attend the dance earlier in the school gym.

The after-prom program of entertainment is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association in an effort to keep students off crowded highways and prevent them from making unwise trips to other cities. The party's success in previous years is the reason for its continuance.

of wearing culottes, or whatever they call a dress that is a pair of pants made to look like a dress with frou-frou.

Any lady cellist should have thought of the possibility long ago of riding the thing side-saddle, instead of that grotesque position that makes her look like a cat washing in one of the difficult places.

Certainly something could have been done with the blow hole on a flute. The present arrangement makes a flutist look like an out-eater that has just had dismal news from back home.

And as long as improvements are begging to be made in music, couldn't something be done about an arrangement that causes a conductor to present his least flattering aspect in an agitated condition to an audience that came to listen to music, not to speculate on what would happen if the old boy's suspenders snapped in mid-passage.

The least that could be done would be a merciful screen reaching up to the waist. The best would be to put the conductor in the wings, out of sight.

Music should be beautiful. Most of it is. But its beauty can be blocked out by the listener's preoccupation with the mechanics of its rendition—musicians licking reeds, fighting violins, tinkering with the plumbing on horns, sawing, jabbing, puffing, writhing, getting red in the face and perspiration-stained.

All gratitude to Yehudi Menuhin for doing something about the violin, which can make such delightful sounds but itself often seems to be something its master either is holding by the tail like a dead cat or trying to squeeze to death with his chin.

By PETER EDSON
Political implications of the farmer's referendum rejecting the Kennedy administration 1964 wheat program may not be clarified much before next year's presidential and congressional elections. Of perhaps even more importance, the wheat vote muddies the whole farm legislation picture, greatly impairing needed new cotton and dairy programs.

Republican leaders hail defeat of the administration wheat program as a repudiation of all farm control policies advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Orville S. Freeman. They call for his resignation, even though the President expresses confidence in Freeman and gives him credit for working to increase United States farm income to the highest levels since 1953.

At the same time, Republican farm belt congressmen are rushing in with new wheat legislation they want passed this year to raise support prices well above the levels of $1.25 a bushel, which will be in effect under existing law.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., is introducing a bill to continue the 1963 wheat program, which would mean a government support price of $2 a bushel. GOP Reps. Albert H. Quie of Minnesota, Bob Dole of Kansas, Don Short of North Dakota and others are sponsoring new wheat legislation which would reduce the support price to between 65 and 90 per cent of parity, which would be $1.62 to $2.25 a bushel.

DEPARTMENT OF Agriculture experts admit that as a result of the farm vote rejecting stricter controls, government wheat program costs may be reduced on the 1964 crop.

But if the prospect of lower wheat prices causes farmers to put more 1963 wheat under government loan—and if the removal of strict controls of planting causes a 25 to 30 per cent increase in planting for 1965—the government wheat program costs may rise by $2 billion to $3 billion a year. And it will take longer to get production back under control.

If the situation should develop in this way, the Republicans are proposing a program that will wipe out about all the economy cuts they now hope to make in the Kennedy budget.

Republican farm leaders under Rep. Charles B. Hovsen of Iowa nevertheless hope to sell a new wheat program to the GO leadership and make it party policy. The pitch seems to be to blame the Democrats if a new wheat bill is not passed.

Department of Agriculture officials concede that if new wheat legislation can be passed before the end of August it will be in time to control 1964 winter wheat crop planting. If only Republicans vote for it, however, it is almost sure to be defeated because of the 3-to-2 Democratic majority in the House and the 2-to-1 Democratic majority in the Senate.

DEMOCRATIC Congressional leaders are all insisting that there will be no new wheat legislation passed this session. This is based on the fact that defeat of the proposed controls in the wheat referendum does not mean that there is no wheat program at all for 1964.

Congress last year adopted permanent wheat legislation with minimum 50 per cent of parity price supports for farmers who comply with limited production controls. This point is said to be not well understood generally.

Furthermore, there will be another referendum on wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments prior to June 13, 1964, to govern 1965 wheat crop planting. This offers a chance to correct any faults which develop before election day.

While the 1963 referendum result is hailed as a great victory for the American Farm Bureau Federation which campaigned heavily against Freeman's program, it is notable that no one in this dispute advocates a completely free market with all government controls, price support and conservation payments removed.

Desirable as such a development might be from the viewpoint of government economy, it is conceded that a completely free agriculture, suddenly imposed, would produce only chaos.

The drop in wheat prices after the referendum result became known is considered indicative.

History Today

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1889, between two and three thousand lives were lost at Johnstown, Pennsylvania, when heavy rains caused the dam across South Fork, 12 miles above the city, to burst. Fire wreckage piled up at a railroad bridge added to the horror and inspired a four million dollar relief fund—one of the first such responses to a disaster.

In 1790, the first copyright law was passed by Congress.

In 1862, the Battle of Fair Oaks, Virginia, one of the bloodiest encounters of the Civil War—was fought.

In 1916, the naval Battle of Jutland began in the North Sea.

In 1926, the Sesqui-centennial Exposition opened in Philadelphia.

In 1941, the British evacuated the Island of Crete.

Ten years ago—Queen Elizabeth issued a combined birthday and coronation honors list—which was made up of 1,449 names, and bestowed knighthoods on a number of them, including actor John Gielgud and racing jockey Gordon Richards.

Five years ago—President Coty of France formally designated Charles de Gaulle as premier, compelling De Gaulle's fight for full control of the nation to avert civil war.

On League's Letter

I am in total accord with the request of the League of Women Voters that a detailed study be made of the expenditures for administration and plant operations in our school system, and that a group of impartial school experts be hired to make such a survey together with a study of the school district's need for capital improvements in the next ten years, and a logical means of financing these improvements.

However, I must point out the first paragraph of your editorial May 25 was inaccurate. Not only was the fact that the League requested such a survey in 1961 included in their letter of May 18, which was read in its entirety at the Board of Education meeting May 20, but Mr. Kendall made mention of this in his discussion prior to his motion that such a team of experts be hired.

It seems to me that The News would have done a greater service to have printed the letter in its entirety rather than excerpts.

Editor's Note: It was at the special request of the League that the letter was printed, in part, and particularly the questions on costs of operations asked of the school board.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Home Wrecker

Dear Ann: I hope “Second Time Around” reads this. It may give him a clue as to what might be in store for him.

I'm not very bright but this is one subject I know well because I was one of those stupid fools who married a man old enough to be my father. Now I am paying for it—with interest.

Every young chicken who marries an older man will take an oath that she didn't break up his marriage. She knows it was on the rocks when she came along.

Not me. I deliberately broke up this man's home and I admit it. I'll tell you what I have harvested after 10 years, and a young girl who is flirting with the notion of doing as I did can expect just about the same.

The bloom is off the rose after three months. Then the old boy gets tired and wants to put on his bifocals and read the paper or watch TV every night. The romance factory is shut down. Forget about it.

He becomes insanely jealous of any man my age and wants constant reassurance that I'm not cheating on him. The Spanish Inquisition was a Sunday school picnic compared with what I go through about three times a week. I can't have groceries, cleaning, newspapers, milk or packages delivered because he doesn't want “men” around here during the day. Charming, isn't it?

All our social friends are HIS friends—you can almost smell the embalming fluid. The people in my age group are bored stiff with his company and have stopped asking us over.

I could go on and on and on, but I think you get the idea by this time. One final word: About the 100th time someone mistakes the old geezer for your father you begin to realize maybe it wasn't worth it.—MADE MY OWN BED.

Dear Made Your Bed: Thank you for a fitting win-up to a highly controversial subject. I received many pros and cons but yours (in terms of YOUR viewpoint) was among the most vivid and articulate.

James Hoffa's Big Dream

By VICTOR RIESEL
Recently Jimmy Hoffa lifted his horizons slightly by revealing he was going global. With a look of most apparent sincerity he confided to congressional committee that he soon would be dealing in international picket lines.

Hoffa said he would dispatch picket squads to London and that the British “labor confederation” out of mutual “respect,” would do the same for him in what would become worldwide strike action.

So I made contact with those new horizons of Hoffa's.

From the highest labor authority in Britain, I learned that the British confederation never heard of his plan. If they did they would not reciprocate. Furthermore they would not deal with Hoffa on such a sensitive international problem.

SO THERE is no doubt that this is another Hoffa foray into the art of Paul Bunyanesque legendry, here are excerpts from a letter written to me by Britain's top labor leader.

He is George Woodcock, general secretary of the British Trades Union Congress, (TUC) the nine-million-member labor organization covering the British Isles.

“In your letter of May 3 you asked me to comment on a reported statement by Mr. James Hoffa . . . that he had a long-range plan to send pickets to London with the British Labor Confederation sending pickets to the U.S.A. to make strikes against American transport firms more effective.”

“The TUC itself would not think of intervening in the trade union affairs of the U.S.A. without consulting the AFL-CIO. But the question, if it ever moves beyond the hypothetical, seems to be one for the unions of transport workers to answer. Indeed, as the press cutting (clipping) you sent refers to European unions, it is perhaps more appropriately an issue for the International Transport Workers' Federation.”

Once again he has rolled out the proposal for global action—and, of course, worldwide leadership. It comes at a moment when the heat really is on.

I have just crisscrossed this country for some 8,000 miles. In very few circles does one find the belief that there is a vendetta between the government and Hoffa. Instead, in the universities, in many business and labor groups, and among civic leaders there is a real concern over what

I pursued this further and could not find any support for Hoffa's global strike plans in the International Transport Workers' Federation (ITF), which has its world headquarters in London. There was curiosity and some disdain at the efforts to put it in the middle of a Hoffa propaganda offensive.

THERE'S MORE to all this than Hoffa's dreams of coordinating the transportation unions, today in the United States—tomorrow the world.

It is known only to a few, but once before when the heat was on, he attempted to move in international circles.

It was really not his idea in the past. The thought came to one of his advisers, an ex-Communist now as legendary in labor's inner sanctum as Paul Bunyan is in the grade schools of the land.

The adviser was the late Eddie Cheyfitz, who did his undergraduate work in a Moscow labor school during the '30s. Later he broke with the Communist apparatus. But he never forgot the value of international operations.

Some years ago he urged Hoffa to attempt to become one of the officers of the six-million-member International Transport Workers' Federation. Hoffa growled at him. The belligerent teamsters' chief said he'd be denounced as a left winger.

Cheyfitz replied—operate globally, what do you care what they denounce you for so long as they don't denounce you for other things at home. Hoffa said quite warily, okay, go and try.

THEY ATTEMPTED to make him an officer of the ITF world executive committee. They failed. Hoffa's people advised him to donate money to the huge British Transportation and General Workers' Union, which then was in a costly strike against the London bus system. They took his financial aid. But he got no kudos from them.

Some of Hoffa's aides spent considerable time in London and Europe attempting to whip up sentiment for their leader. They could not. But Hoffa never has forgotten the titillating temptation of international action.

Once again he has rolled out the proposal for global action—and, of course, worldwide leadership. It comes at a moment when the heat really is on.

I have just crisscrossed this country for some 8,000 miles. In very few circles does one find the belief that there is a vendetta between the government and Hoffa. Instead, in the universities, in many business and labor groups, and among civic leaders there is a real concern over what is developing.

By the latest count there were at least 126 indictments of teamsters and their associates. Of these 59 were convicted of embezzlement and other crimes involving the diversion of hundreds of thousands of dollars of union funds.

MOST STARTLING is the May 21 indictment of four men charged with attempting “to bribe or corruptly influence two jurors and at least 10 prospective jurors . . .” The Justice Department has charged—though it has been generally overlooked—that sums as high as $30,000 were involved in one alleged move. The total money mentioned in this jury tampering case is more than $75,000 in cash.

If proven true, these charges reveal the grossest contempt for our basic system of law and order.

The public will not be diverted from watching these trials when they start in Nashville on June 10.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter signed “Second Time Around” from the man who believes all first wives should be shot at 40, was quite a revelation.

You see, I am a first wife and my 40th birthday comes up in October. My husband also is having a sizzling affair with a woman about 20 years his junior, and I've been wracking my brain trying to figure out what to do about it.

Now the answer is clear. I'm supposed to hand my husband a gun and tell him to shoot me.

After all, what am I good for? I've already raised his four children, my figure isn't what it used to be and I must put on glasses to read the telephone book. I'm no longer able to help him in his business because he sold it last year—for a fantastic figure, I might add.

Now he plays golf, takes trips and spends his afternoons shopping with his girl friend.

I'm not much of a golfer and I can't travel with him because she travels with him. And as you know—there is a crowd.

Thank you for printing the man's letter, Ann. It provided me with just the right answer. Russian roulette, anyone?—FIRST WIFE.

Dear First Wife: Thank you for an interesting letter. I think you'll find the one that follows a revelation, too.

Navajo Trail Crosses Reservations

By MARK KNIGHT
For the Associated Press

A new surfaced highway, cutting through the heart of the most picturesque Indian homeland of western America, opens to tourist and commercial traffic this year an area nearly the size of West Virginia.

The Navajo Trail, dedicated as a modern highway in the fall of 1962, removes a formidable barrier between the cliff dwellings of Mesa Verde National Park in southwestern Colorado and the Grand Canyon. It cuts driving distance between Denver and the Grand Canyon by 170 miles—nearly 100 miles between Denver and Phoenix.

THE GRANDEUR of the Navajo and Hopi reservations has been seen by relatively few people. Navajo women herd their sheep among colorful rock formations familiar only to motion picture and television fans. They weave blankets and mold pottery outside hogans (homes resembling beehives) no different from those of Revolutionary War days. Only their schools, hospitals and larger villages show a measurable imprint of the efforts of the federal government to change their way of life.

Aide from transcontinental highway 66 skirting south of the Indian country, and 666 and 89 through the eastern and western fringes respectively, only one surfaced state road traverses the Navajo reservation. This (Arizona 264) connects Gallup, N.M., with Tuba City, an Arizona outpost of Grand Canyon, but enjoys little tourist use.

NATIONAL PARK officials and concessioners look with mixed feelings for a sharply increased flood of tourists over the Navajo Trail. More dollars will be spent in entrance fees and for tourist accommodations, but there is some concern even on the part of concessioners over their ability to keep pace with the increased patronage.

In Mesa Verde, for example, where continuing excavations reveal an amazingly advanced urban life supported by farming up to less than 700 years ago, the concessioner is just as concerned as park officials in protecting the ruins.

"We're after visitors, of course," says Roger Hall, general manager of the Mesa Verde Co., "but we do not want them to arrive in such numbers that neither the rangers nor ourselves can cope with the situation. However, we don't think this is a present danger."

Visitors must drive 20 miles up winding mountain highway from US 160 to their accommodations in the park and return by the same route. Suggestions that this road be extended over the mesa land to connect with the Navajo Trail near where New Mexico, Utah, Arizona and Colorado share the only "four corner" boundary in the nation, are strongly opposed by everyone in the park. "Our business would probably increase," says Hall, "but with such a highway it would be virtually impossible to preserve the cliff dwellings and evidences of early farming on the mesas. In this park preservation of the early civilization is everything. We must protect it at all costs."

THE "MISSION 66" program of the National Park Service, now entering its seventh year, has gone far toward relieving the pressures of mounting tourist trade. New roads, trails and camps, improved and enlarged facilities, and extension of license periods to encourage concessioners to build more and better accommodations, have done wonders.

They would have nearly eliminated the shortages that made the "Mission 66" program so urgent, had it not been for steadily growing park traffic. When the program started in 1956, the annual visits to all national parks were 55 million. An increase to 88 million was expected upon the program's completion in 1966. But with the visitor count at 88.2 million in 1962, four years to go, and a booming trend toward off-season as well as in-season travel in America, the dilemma remains.

THE AMERICAN TOURIST becomes steadily more demanding. The rough cabins and tents, with nearby plumbing, that satisfied a previous generation are out. Today's traveler wants a room with bath and all other luxuries of home. Or, if he has a trailer behind his automobile, he must be able to drive on a surfaced highway to an attractive space where he can in a twinkling connect with a sewer line and electricity.

That is "roughing it," 1963 style.

These standards call for heavy investments both by the government and concessioners.

Perhaps more important, though less spectacular than the tourist appeal of the Navajo Trail, is its economic potential for the Indians. Some 90,000 Navajos—roughly twice the number who found a scant subsistence in the area at the turn of the century—remain as closely knit in their tribal life as before the advent of the white man. The high plateau's flat-top mesas, deep canyons and gravel washes furnish little grazing for sheep. Little rainfall and scarcely any soil is available for either forage or farming.

ISOLATION HAS limited trade in blankets and pottery, for which the Navajos and Hopis are famous. Exposure of these wares to additional thousands of travelers will almost certainly stimulate the native industries.

The flow of traffic over the Navajo Trail, coupled with training of the Indians to perform the many services required by travelers, is expected to contribute much toward the self-supporting goals shared by government and tribesmen.

National park officials expect the greater accessibility of Mesa Verde and Grand Canyon to divert considerable traffic to the new route without noticeably affecting the patronage over other roads. The history of new highways, they point out, is that they stimulate the total travel.

The Navajo Trail, therefore, as the last of a network of direct surfaced connections among the western parks, will bring more easterners to the West, more Pacific Coast residents to the Southwest and Rockies—and more urgency upon parks and concession authorities to keep up with the demands.

WHAT TO DO WITH TOUSLED HAIR AFTER a busy day outdoors. These models solve this old problem with a switch and wiglet. After smoothing her hair to the back (left), the model pins it in place and creates a new hairdo by braiding her switch of human hair (switches usually are 18 to 22 inches long), wearing it as a topknot. To add height and some width to her coiffure, model (right) uses wiglet (usually 8 inches of hair). She combs and pins her hair in place and arranges the wiglet with elaborate curls at the side. A wiglet also helps in creating formal hairdos.

Two hours after the judge's ruling, at 6 p.m. 220 Negroes assembled before the theater in a quiet demonstration, the 10th in 10 days. Some carried picket signs urging desegregation.

Across the street, more than 100 white persons gathered.

Dozens of law enforcement officers watched both groups.

Twelve minutes after the Negroes arrived, Sheriff Bill Joyce ordered them to disperse. When they refused, he ordered the group arrested for contempt of court.

While being herded 10 blocks to county jail, the Negroes chanted their favorite anti-segregation chant.

Leaders of the Congress of Racial Equality have said the demonstrations would continue until segregation is ended.

Mayor Sam Teague said he would present to the City Commission a request by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for a biracial committee to resolve grievances.

Police at Jackson, Miss., arrested 27 demonstrators Thursday, including an integrated group of 14 who knelt on the post office steps to pray for racial peace and progress.

Pupils at a Negro high school spent the afternoon chanting "freedom songs," but demonstrations in downtown Jackson were scattered, quiet and brief.

The NAACP accused police of brutality, but Detective Chief M. Pierce denied that any of the more than 800 teen-agers were beaten, although they "threw rocks at policemen, injuring one slightly."

The Philadelphia School Board and building contractors involved in a racial dispute offered to put five qualified Negroes to work on a school construction job if the NAACP will halt picketing of the project.

Picketing has been staged since last Friday in support of demands for more jobs for Negroes. In several clashes, 14 policemen and five Negroes have been injured.

City officials in Memphis, Tenn., announced that all public recreational facilities except swimming and wading pools will be desegregated immediately. The pools will remain closed for the time being, they said. The action came three days after the U.S. Supreme Court knocked out the city's 10-year desegregation plan.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said in a Memorial Day speech at Gettysburg, Pa., that all Americans, white and Negro should "lead the way through this moment of challenge and decision" on racial problems.

More than 1,500 Negroes staged an orderly demonstration at a Chicago cemetery where 6,000 Confederate soldiers are buried, professed to cremate the body of a Negro woman.

Officials at the cemetery, where Memorial Day ceremonies were under way at the same time as the Negro demonstrations, called the matter a misunderstanding and said a meeting has been arranged with Negro leaders to try to resolve it.

Five Negroes were arrested at Cambridge, Md., as they prayed in front of a segregated recreation center protesting racial discrimination.

Police at Baltimore arrested eight persons who attempted to integrate an amusement park in suburban Catonsville.

The "Mr. Olympian" award went to Lynne Balmos and "Mrs. Olympian" to Kathy Arnold.

to those who made the greatest sacrifice than to work to contribute toward achieving a lasting peace.

In his address Rev. Deitch said: "Every nation in every age has had its memorial days, when the victories of the past have been celebrated, the deeds of appreciation shown for those whose lives were sacrificed in making freedom possible."

"Our own Memorial Day goes back to 1867 when some good women of Columbus, Miss., decorated not only the graves of their own dead but also the graves of the Northern soldiers who were buried there. And through this deed our annual Memorial Day began. It is a beautiful way of paying tribute; it is an effective way of keeping us from forgetting."

Liberty has come at a terrible cost," Rev. Deitch said.

"Our hearts are touched as we think of that first group of patriots, who, poorly clothed and half starved, untrained, faced death in order to secure for us a nation. Two thousand of them died from exposure during that terrible winter of Valley Forge. It was that spirit which made this nation great and which was reflected again and again through the years that followed—in the Argonne, Pearl Harbor, Batan, Iwo Jima, the Battle of the Bulge and countless other places."

"In the 11th chapter of Hebrews, God has made out a master roll of many of His departed heroes. Back almost to the gates of Eden He has gone in search of those 'the immortal names' that were not born to die. It is a memorial chapter, and over each holy mound He, the great God, drops some flowers of remembrance."

"By Faith Abel offered up unto God a more excellent sacrifice. He being dead yet speaketh. Our hero dead continue to speak to us."

women workers, led by Jose Alonso, CGT secretary-general, battled police for more than an hour until a police commissioner assured them they could demonstrate in peace.

Tear gas scattered 7,000 workers in another demonstration.

The unions called the demonstrations and strike to vent grievances against President Jose Maria Guido's shaky regime.

The confederation has accused the government of failing to take action in the economic crisis, which has left one million jobless. It also demands release of prisoners it says are being held without trial.

Abraham Lincoln's colorful and controversial Postmaster General, Montgomery Blair, is the subject of a new Post Office Department publication, presented recently to Miss Nellie Glass for the Salem Public Library by Postmaster R. J. Reasbeck.

The 44-page pamphlet is being issued by the Post Office Department as part of its centennial celebration of the Paris Conference of 1863, which led to the founding of the Universal Postal Union, which regulates the handling of international mail.

Although he ran the Post Office Department during the chaotic Civil War period, Blair introduced free delivery of mail in cities, money order system, and the railway post office to assemble and distribute mail en route.

ment of holy oils and prayers administered by a priest. The request showed the Pope was conscious.

Physicians knew the Pope's stomach growth, gastric heteroplasia, was a continuing threat and had cautioned him to take things easy.

But he had been gaining strength.

One of the Pope's doctors quoted him as saying he hoped to see the conclusion of the Ecumenical Council, scheduled to reopen Sept. 8 and last until Christmas. This was viewed as an indication that Pope John might soon return to work despite his ailment.

He was stricken a year ago, but continued his work between crises.

Is Ready For Death

It appeared he was counting on going on indefinitely, though he has said repeatedly he is ready for death.

He had maintained that his duties as supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church demanded that he make every sacrifice, even if continued work meant his life.

Manzini said the Pope said he was sure the Ecumenical Council work would be concluded.

This was a clear plea to any successor to continue the council, which would remain suspended after the Pope's death. His successor need not reconvene it.

Jones Sets Record Pace To Capture 500 Classic

Nips Clark By 34 Seconds

Victory Dinner Is Set Tonight

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Parnelli Jones sat in his Agajanian Wilford Special and kept repeating: "I just can't believe it. I just can't believe it."

The 29-year-old Torrance, Calif., driver moved like a man in a dream after his record victory in the rich Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day Classic.

"I just can't get it into my head," Jones said softly into the confusion of the victory celebration around him.

J. C. Agajanian, the car owner, kissed him. Agajanian's wife kissed him. His own wife kissed him.

"You won the race, Rufus," Agajanian shouted to the man who was born Rufus Parnell Jones. "You're the greatest."

Jones, who had won the pole position for the second straight year, was favored in the race, but had to drive his heart out to beat Scotsman Jimmy Clark in a rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

Says Car Spilled Oil
Clark was one of those who complained after the race that Jones car was spilling oil onto the track just before he took the winner's checkered flag.

However, Chief Steward Harlan Fenger refused to wave Jones into the pits.

"You can't take this race away from a man on snap judgment," said Fenger, who also noted that other cars were throwing oil.

No official protest can be filed until race officials meet this morning, but as one veteran of the race remarked, complaints are a tradition the night after the race but "after a night's sleep they're usually forgotten."

Clark, No. 2 in world road racing standings last year, and Dan Gurney, another Grand Prix racer from Costa Mesa, Calif., ran 23 behind Jones through the late stages of the race.

After charging his hardest for 3½ hours, Jones crossed the finish line a tick under 34 seconds ahead of Clark.

Jones won't know how much he won until the Indianapolis Motor Speedway cuts up a purse of possibly one-half million dollars at tonight's victory dinner. He knows he won $25,000 in lap prize money for leading 167 of the race's 200 laps. The front runner gets $150 a lap in addition to the main prizes.

The soft-spoken king of the country's sprint tracks, also knows that he had to break the track record by almost three miles per hour to win. He averaged 143.137 m.p.h. in spite of wrecks that forced the field to run under the yellow "hold-your-position" light for almost 50 minutes. Clark averaged 142.752 m.p.h.

Nobody Seriously Hurt
The first five finishers broke the old record.

Nobody was hurt seriously in a series of crashes. Veteran Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, suffered a twisted foot and a back injury when he crashed into the wall on the northeast turn.

Others who banged into the wall included Eddie Sachs, Detroit; rookie Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M.; Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex.; and Bud Tingelstad, Dayton, Ohio.

A. J. Foyt, of Houston, Tex., finished highest of four former winners in the race. He was third. Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, last year's winner, was fourth. Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., who started last in 33rd place, was 12th, and Jim Rathmann, Melbourne, Fla., was stopped by fuel trouble.

Giants Edge Cincy 5-4 Behind O'Dell's 8th Straight Win

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

After years of struggling to reach the break-even point, Billy O'Dell has pitched his way to the plus side of the ledger.

And as an added asset, the left-hander currently owns the most profitable record in big time baseball—a perfect 8-0.

O'Dell, 30, won his eighth in a row Thursday night as the San Francisco Giants topped the Cincinnati Reds 5-4 with the help of homers by rookie Cap Peterson and Felipe Alou, the relief work of Bob Bolin, and his own infield single.

The one-time Baltimore bonus baby, who was traded to the Giants in 1959, went into the year with a 63-66 mark to show for six seasons plus in the majors. Now he's rolling and so are the Giants, with a 2½-game lead in the National League race.

Spahn Picks Up 31st
Also in the NL, Warren Spahn recorded his 31st pitching victory as the Milwaukee Braves beat the runner-up Los Angeles Dodgers 7-4; the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the Houston Colts 9-5; the Chicago Cubs whacked the New York Mets 12-0 before the Mets took a 2-1 decision behind Jay Hook's two-hit pitching; and Pittsburgh split with Philadelphia, the Pirates winning the opener 7-1 and the Phillies squeezing by 6-5 in the second game.

Hank Aaron paced the Milwaukee attack as the Braves beat Don Drysdale, whacking his 15th homer, a double and single. Spahn took a 6-1 lead into the eighth inning but then was tagged for Jim Gilliam's homer, Tommy Davis' third single, Bill Skowron's double and a triple by John Roseboro.

Claud Raymond held off the Dodgers the rest of the way, preserving Spahn's seventh victory against three losses.

Colts Commit 5 Errors
The Cardinals collected eight unearned runs against the Colts, who committed five errors in losing their fifth in a row. St. Louis' big inning was the six-run third, when the Colts made three errors and Stan Musial belted a three-run homer—the 471st of his career.

Ray Sadecki was the winner with relief help from Ed Bauta, and Dick Farrell the loser.

The Cubs put together the biggest single inning spurge of the season with their 10 runs in the fourth of the opener against the Mets. Sixteen Cubs batted against loser Al Jackson, Larry Bearnarth and Don Rowe.

Larry Jackson coasted in with a six-hit shutout and now is 7-5.

Hook received key offensive support in the second game from Duke Snider, who knocked in both Met runs with his 397th career homer and a single.

Sets 21 Cubs In Order
Hook, 2-5, set down 21 Cubs in order at one stretch. The loss went to Glen Hobbie, 1-4.

Jerry Lynch batted his first homer since returning to the Pirates from the Reds and Don Cardwell registered a neat eight-hitter in Pittsburgh's rout of Philadelphia.

The Phils gained a split in the second game squeaker, taking the lead by scoring four times in the fifth and adding the deciding marker in the sixth. Wes Covington's two-run pinch homer highlighted the Phils' big inning.

Twins Post 10th in Row, Nip Senators 3-2; A's Knock Off Baltimore Orioles

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Some people are sloughing us off in their pennant predictions. It burns me up and I hope it has the same effect on the players." The words belong to Minnesota Manager Sam Mele.

Continuing to climb up the standings in the tightening American League pennant scramble, the Twins maintained their sizzling pace Thursday with a 3-2 victory over Washington that accounted for their 10th consecutive victory.

The triumph gave the Twins the longest winning streak in the majors this season. It also left them only one-half game out of the first division after floundering at the tail-end of the standings for the first month of the season.

Pascual Wins 3rd Straight
One of the things Mele has going for him is right-hander Camilo Pascual, who has won three of the 10 games in the streak.

Against the Senators, he scattered eight singles and, finding himself short on runs, drove in the winner with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

At the top of the standings, Kansas City made it two straight over league-leading Baltimore, beating the Orioles 7-2 and trimming their edge to two games over the runner-up New York Yankees, 6-5 winners in 10 innings at Boston.

The third-place Chicago White Sox closed to within three games of the top with a doubleheader sweep over Cleveland, 8-4 and 4-2, while Detroit whipped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 behind Hank Aguirre's four-hit pitching in a second division struggle.

Snapped Losing Streak
The A's, who had lost 10 straight to Steve Barber, bombed the Orioles' left-hander for six runs in 5½ innings and handed him his fourth loss against eight victories. Bobby Del Greco collected three hits for Kansas City and Ed Charles hit a two-run homer.

Ed Rakow, 6-2, was the winner, but needed John Wyatt's relief help.

Clete Boyer drove in the deciding run for the Yankees with a sacrifice fly in the 10th after the Red Sox had tied the score in the ninth on Ed Bressoud's two-out homer, his second of the game. Roger Maris led the New York attack with his seventh homer, a single and a bases-loaded walk in the seventh inning that broke a 4-4 tie. Ralph Terry went the distance for a 6-4 record.

Johnson Defends Title Against Willie Pastrano

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson of Philadelphia hopes that a familiar pattern in boxing — puncher against a boxer — doesn't prevail in his title match with Willie Pastrano Saturday night.

The champion, 34, frankly wants the challenger from North Miami Beach to come to him and not run away in their 15 round nationally televised (ABC) bout.

"If he fights," Johnson said Friday, "somebody is going to get knocked down."

"I won't say it will be him or me but—"

Johnson's manager, Pat Oliveri cut in:

"Pastrano will be the one to go down. When Harold explodes a bomb on his jaw, the lights will go out."

Pastrano, who learned his trade in his native New Orleans, has never been knocked off his feet in 83 fights. "This will be the first time," Oliveri declared.

Central State Cops Ohio Track Crown

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wittenberg's Bob Cherry captured three events and Central State won the team championship in the All-Ohio Track Meet Thursday.

Cherry won the high jump, the 330-yard hurdles and the 120-yard hurdles in meet record time of 14 seconds flat, two-tenths of a second better than Harrison Dillard's 17-year-old record.

Central State compiled 65 points to finish far ahead of Ohio University with 40 points. Next came host Baldwin — Wallace with 24 points, Akron 22, Wittenberg 18, Ohio State and Kent State 16, Ohio Wesleyan 15, Bowling Green 13 and the other schools were far down the list.

Barry Latman started the second game for the Indians, his first start in a long time. Cleveland gave him a 2-0 lead in the fifth inning on a single by Gene Green, a run-producing double by Held and a wild pitch.

But a four-run rally in the fifth frayed chased Latman and the Sox brought in Frank Baumann to pitch two-hit scoreless ball for four innings.

The Yankees came to Cleveland for the first time this season for tonight's opener of a four-game series.

Dick Donovan (2-3) is slated to start for Cleveland against Yankee southpaw Whitey Ford (5-3). New York has won six of its last eight games and is only two games out of first place.

Candy Spots Easily Wins Derby Stakes

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—Trainer Mesh Tenney kind of let "the horse out of the bag" after the $121,100 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park. He, too, had been worried about the ability of Candy Spots to run on an off track.

After Candy Spots whipped five other 3-year-olds in the 1 1/2-mile Jersey, however, Tenney, with almost a sigh of relief, commented: "I'm sure now he can go on any kind of track."

The Garden State track was listed as good Thursday, but was on the wet side.

Tenney, who trains the chestnut colt owned by Rex Ellsworth, of California, had dodged artfully most questions about Candy Spots' ability to run on anything but a fast track. He sort of whistled in the dark about the whole thing.

Today, as he moved Candy

Spots to New York for the next week's Belmont Stakes, Tenney is confident. He believes he has a horse destined for greatness. Most experts now are inclined to agree with him.

Off his winning performance in the Preakness two weeks ago, and his triumph in the Jersey Candy Spots appears the class of this year's 3-year-olds.

Apparently, his lone defeat in a nine-race career—a third in the Kentucky Derby—was just one of those things.

His Jersey triumph might best be described as a lucrative work-out for the Belmont. By surging in the stretch to a 1 1/2 length victory over Get Around, a tenacious but outclassed colt from the Maine Chance Farm, Candy Spots earned $78,715 for Ellsworth and at the same time got in a tightener for the Belmont.

12 Races, 100 Cars Are Set For Canfield Saturday Night

Late models and amateur race cars take over the spotlight of auto racing at Canfield Speedway Saturday night. There will be some 100 cars in action in 12 big events.

Jim Bickerstaff of Mineral Ridge and Gary Walters of Niles will be out to make it two in a row in the features. Bickerstaff outlasted a top-notch field of late models to win last week, while

More Than 100 Cars Expected At Sharon Track

HARTFORD, Ohio—A field of more than 100 cars again is expected for the weekly stock car races Sunday night at Sharon Speedway. Promoter Jim Novak's bonus policy of adding more races when the total number of cars warrants has been well received by drivers and owners.

Since the policy was inaugurated two years ago, drivers have been humming with the chance. Every car that turns up at Sharon Speedway gets to race at least in two events, regardless of the total number of cars that show up, thus giving the drivers an opportunity to latch onto some of the prize money. Additional purses are provided for the extra races.

Sunday's program will again guarantee 12 events in three divisions. Stocks, Sportsman and Super-Modified. Each division will have at least two heat races, an Australian Pursuit and a feature. The stocks will run in a 15-lap feature and the sportsman and modified will each have a 25-lap feature.

The time trials will get under way at 6:30 p.m., with the first event getting started Otto Helm's green flag at 8 o'clock, promptly. The 4,000 covered grandstand seats will be sold on a first come, first-served basis starting at 6 p.m.

The leading drivers of the area, who have been appearing regularly at Sharon Speedway are again expected to be on hand for the program.

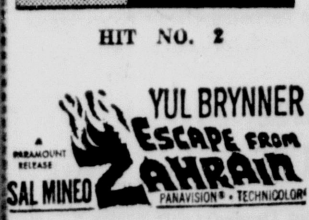

They include drivers like Henry Jacoby, Franklin, Jim Seese, Akron, Steve Unger, Ravenna, Lou Blaney, Hartford Mac Clingan Cleveland, Steve Travers, New Castle, Dick Bailey, Grove City, Conny Allen, Warren, Tom Norman, Geneva, Bob Blaney Hartford, Bob Krauss, Sharon, George Hegedus, Masury, and many many others who like the Hartford oval.

Hobbycraft Closes In On Loop Leader in SJBL Class H Group

Hobbycraft closed in on league leader Dairy Isle by defeating Colonial Attic 10-2 in Salem Junior Baseball Class H action at Reilly Field Wednesday.

In another contest Independent Hone trimmed CIO 1538 13-7 at Buckeye Field; and in a Class F game, Electric Furnace edged Fishers News 4-3 at Memorial North.

Hobbycraft picked up its second straight trail Dairy Isle which has a 3-0 record.

Colonial Attic managed to tie the score 2-2 in the third, but the winners retaliated to chalk up two markers in the bottom of the frame.

A six-run sixth inning by Hobby-craft put the game out of reach. The rally included a double by Larry Lozier and triples by Allen Hoffman and Mike Phillips.

Lozier hit three doubles during the contest. He was also the winning pitcher and gave up but two hits.

Mike Bezeredi collected both the hits as he led off the first inning with a single and belted a double in the third.

Independent took a 5-0 lead in the initial inning on three walks, an error and singles by Ed Galtchick, Jim Greemyer, Tim Muhleman and Steve Miller.

Tom Warren collected two doubles to pace CIO 1538. Miller led the winners with three hits.

Electric Furnace scored a run in the ninth on a walk and two errors. Lou Markovich hit a two-run homer for the losers in the bottom of the ninth.

SAYS CUBAN ARMS USED

SANTO DOMINO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Officials sources reported today that arms being used by terrorists in Colombia were shipped from Cuba.

They said captured carbines in Colombia bore serial numbers of weapons once shipped by the late Dictator Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo to his friend, Dictator Fulgencio Batista in Cuba. They thus fell into the hands of Fidel Castro when he ousted Batista in 1959.

Newton Minow Quits As Chairman of FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the day Newton Minow deserts the New Frontier and rides off into the sunset, westward bound for Chicago and a little pot of gold.

At 37 and with five years still to go on his seven-year hitch as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, he's chucking government service to join Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

There seemed to be some mystery about the move until one of Minow's associates grew tired of being asked what for.

"For $100,000 a year," he said.

Without Minow as FCC chairman, Washington may never be the safe, especially if the prayers of some broadcasters are heard.

His successor, E. William Henry, 34, it is true, takes over with the reputation of being just about as tough a regulator as Minow.

A lanky lawyer from Memphis, Tenn., Henry moves to the top after just eight months as an FCC member.

He shares many of Minow's views about television.

He looks on much of the staple television fare — situation comedies, Westerns and whodunits — as unworthy of the amount of prime time devoted to it.

He believes that programs on public affairs, art, news and education can be entertaining and, therefore, palatable to both viewer and sponsor.

And he's bent on refining broadcasters that their license renewal will depend on how well they serve the public, not merely on whether they can turn a dollar in a ruggedly competitive business.

But even Henry admits that, however tough he turns out to be, his tenure is unlikely to produce the shock effect of Minow's reign.

The most important accomplishments of the FCC during that reign were, perhaps, those most quietly effected.

Through compromise, cajolery and cooperation, the agency helped push through legislation to set up a communications satellite corporation; to provide government aid for the creation of state-wide educational television networks, and to give television elbow room for future growth by requiring that newly manufactured television sets be capable of receiving 82 channels instead of the usual 12.

Yet, there are some broadcasters who will remember Minow less for this than for the fact that during his chairmanship a record number of radio and television stations suffered fines or license revocations for violating FCC rules.

And even more are apt to remember him for his cutting description of television as "a vast wasteland."

Widow Declared Owner of Housing Project Property

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) — An 86-year-old Negro widow and her family have been declared the legal owners of land on which a developer built 23 gleaming new houses for white families.

The property—16½ acres—was awarded Thursday by a Prince William County Circuit Court jury to Marconia Ray and her nine children after an 11-day trial.

The Rays had claimed Cecil D. Hylton, developer of Marumco village near Woodbridge, Va., took 27½ acres that belonged to their family since 1920.

Lawrence Douglas, attorney for Hylton, said he intends to appeal. He told the jury of six men and one woman that when bulldozers appeared in the disputed area the Rays made no claim of trespassing.

However, Harvey Rosenberg, an attorney for the Rays, said Hylton knew there was a boundary problem when work started.

The 23 houses on the acreage awarded the Rays are Cape Cods, colonials and split levels that sell for $14,000 to $22,000. They are part of a white subdivision of the village and just north of the house in which Mrs. Ray and three of her daughters live.

The suit involved only the boundary question. Any financial consideration would have to be settled through negotiation or further litigation.

MOCK FUNERAL HELD

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — A mock funeral with a real casket supposedly containing the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, was the central part of a Miami University demonstration Thursday night aimed at the Ohio House for passing a bill to ban subversives from speaking on state university campuses.

RESCUED AFTER JUMP

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coast Guard rescuers pulled a 33-year-old Lakewood man, Richard Spencer, from the Cuyahoga River Thursday night after he jumped an estimated 113 feet from the high level bridge and survived without any apparent injuries.

Spencer was taken to Lutheran Hospital in fair condition. He was in a state of partial shock.

Aerial Bomb Explodes In Youth's Face

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An aerial bomb apparently set by pranksters exploded in the face of a 14-year-old boy Thursday night, injuring him critically.

Outdoor graduation ceremonies were under way across the street at Kettering Fairmount High School as the boy, Mark Wilkus, and 3 companions walked across the field. The other boys saw one of the bombs sticking in the ground and yelled for him to stay away. Mark bent down to examine the bomb and it went off in his face.

At that precise moment—8:30 p.m.—James Readey, an outstanding member of the high school class—was delivering a speech, "Aim for a Star." Four aerial bombs skyrocketed into the sky, exploding with a deafening bang. One of the bombs struck young Wilkus.

Lt. Gerald Smith of the local police department stepped to a microphone, told the audience what had happened and asked the persons responsible for planting the bombs to come to the area.

Three 18-year-old members of the graduating class appeared, Lt. Smith said, and told him of wiring, planting and setting the time bombs to go off as a prank. The boys were in custody, and charges were delayed pending the outcome of an investigation.

Two Extra Bouquets At Marilyn Crypt

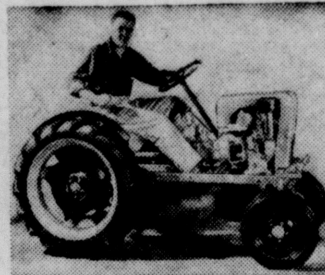

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Two bouquets were added to Joe DiMaggio's traditional red roses at the crypt of Marilyn Monroe in Westwood Memorial Park on Memorial Day.

One of the extra bouquets came from the famed ex-baseball player, who was a former husband of the late movie queen. Miss Monroe died of an overdose of medication last August.

The other came from Kay Carr, 12, of Deerfield, Ill., who never saw the actress except on the screen. He sent $2 to the cemetery and asked that a bouquet be placed for Marilyn's birthday Saturday. She described herself as "only a fan."
